

I do not feel that the FCC has any right to police or monitor the internet. The privacy of internet users should be protected.